GREENVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1911.

50c. PER YEAR, IN ADVANCE

Fewer Railroad Accidents.

Mr. Park, now vice-president of the Illinois Central and formerly for several years an officer of the Union Pacific, makes the positive statement, as refreshing as it is usual, that the Union Pacific methods and other Harriman lines have abolished avoidable train accidents. He has adopted certain Union Pacific methods on the Illinois Central, and the statement comes out in connection with the announcement that the I. C. and its controlled lines during the past calendar year carried 30,728,211 passengers, of whom not one was killed in a train accident; and this includes passengers carried on freight trains. The passenger mileage was 800 millions, passenger train mileage 15 millions, and freight train miles 22.33 millions. The number of train accidents of all kinds was equal to 7.43 accidents per million locomotive miles, which he says is nearly 50 per cent less than the number occurring the preceding year. Mr. Park says that the improvement over former records is due largely or mainly to surprise checking. The division officers now report very few misunderstandings or violations of rules, showing that the natural prejudices of the men against surprise checking have been largely overcome in the short space of time since Mr. Park introduced the methods which he had found so successful on the Union Pacific. His reference to the Union Pacific's efficiency tests, which have now been conducted for several years, is to the effect that they "have practically eliminated avoidable accidents." He includes the company's policy of giving publicity to the cause of train accidents as an important factor in improving the service. Presumptive evidence of the correctness of this declaration, as regards the Harriman lines, is found in the report of those lines, recently published, showing complete freedom from avoidable accidents to passengers during the past year. Both on these lines and the Illinois Central the checking are systematic and rigid. One of them requires that when a passenger train is stopped by a flag or torpedo, or by an unusual signal, the conductor shall confer with the engineer before proceeding. For the last month February, 1911 the surprise checking on the I. C. resulted in the following percentages of efficiency: Chicago division 77; St. Louis division 83; Springfield division 78; Peoria division 83; Freeport division 90; Dubuque division 67; and Cherokee-Omaha 100. Mr. Park says that on the Harriman lines the efficiency of employees has been brought to that degree of perfection that on block-signal lines a flagman is not required to go back if the signal can be seen at "stop" one half mile in the rear. No other road in this country has such a rule, and very few officers would be willing to put their efficiency to test of an abolishment of flagging to the extent that the Harriman lines have done. As Mr. Park well says, this degree of perfection could have been attained only after both officers and employees had undergone a very systematic and exhaustive drill in efficiency.—Railway Age Gazette, issued March 24, 1911.

THE END OF TUBERCULOSIS

Value of Education.

By DR. EDWARD L. TRUDEAU.
The first and greatest need in the prevention of tuberculosis is education—education of the people and through them education of the state. It is evident that if every man and woman in the United States were familiar with the main facts relating to the manner in which tuberculosis is communicated and the simple measures necessary for their protection not only might we reasonably expect a direct result of this knowledge a great diminution in the death rate of the disease, but the people would soon demand and easily obtain effective legislation for its prevention and control. When a state has once become well educated and not before will the other requisites necessary to the control of the disease be forthcoming.

Court of Appeals on Soft Drinks.

Below we are giving the most important features of the recent decision of the Court of Appeals in its opinion in a case appealed from the city of Jellico, a city of the sixth class. This city had enacted an ordinance similar to the one we have in force, and the enforcement was resisted in the courts, with the result that it was finally brought to the Court of Appeals, which upheld the law and the decisions that had been given by the courts en route to this highest court. Judge Carroll rendered the opinion, in part as follows:

The words "soft drinks" are not defined by statute or by the ordinance, but in recent years they have come to have a well-known and popular use in this State, and are commonly understood to mean non-intoxicating beverages that are sold in places where there was formerly sold intoxicating liquors, and may be said to have come into use with the abolition of the bar room and other places where liquor was sold by licensed dealers. While including lemonade, soda water, mineral waters and other innocent and harmless beverages that are and have been sold in this State, the ordinance in reference to "malt mead," "near beer" and other alcoholic concoctions, invented to take the place of intoxicating drinks. "Soft drinks" that contain any per cent of alcohol are regarded as harmful to the morals and health of the community, and their sale might well come within the control and regulation of the police power. But such "soft-drinks" as lemonade, soda water, and mineral waters that are pure and wholesome, and contain no alcohol, are not detrimental to the public good and their sale does not need police regulation or control. A municipality under its right of classification for revenue or police purposes might well impose one license fee for the sale of drinks that contain any per cent of alcohol, and a different license fee for the sale of those that contain no alcohol whatever. It might further classify by their names beverages that do or do not contain alcohol, and exact for the sale of each class a different fee. In short, the right of classification and the corresponding right to impose the same or a different tax may be exercised whenever the classification can be made upon a reasonable basis. To what extent this power might be carried, it is not necessary to a decision of the question before us to determine. It is sufficient to say that the right of classification confers the authority to fix a higher license fee for one class of beverages than another and what would be a reasonable license tax for one class might be unreasonable for another. To illustrate, a license of fifty dollars, or one hundred dollars, or more, for the sale of "soft drinks" like "near beer" that contains any quantity of per cent of alcohol might be reasonable; while the same tax upon the sale of "soft drinks," such as lemonade that contains no alcohol, might be unreasonable. It might be arbitrary and oppressive to fix the license fee for selling useful and pure mineral or healthgiving waters at a sum that would virtually prohibit their sale, when it would not be arbitrary or oppressive to fix a license fee at a prohibitive figure for the sale of beverages that are not wholesome or necessary. If appellant was selling one class of "soft drinks," the tax would not be so unreasonable or oppressive as to warrant us in interfering. If he was selling another kind, then it might or might not be. Having this view of the law, we are not prepared to say that the tax was unreasonable or arbitrary. If appellant was only engaged in the sale of lemonade or like useful and innocent beverages, he should have so stated in his petition, and then we could deal with the precise case that the appellant had. His objection to the ordinance should have been more specific.

When the police power can be invoked as authority for a municipal corporation to control and regulate the sale of an article, it may, if not forbidden by the statute, carry the right of control and regulation to such an extent as to prohibit the sale of it.

NOTICE.

GREENVILLE, KY., March 3, 1911.

Muhlenberg County Union A. S. of E. will be held in Greenville on Thursday and Friday, April 6, 7, 1911.

I must again insist upon every local union in the county to send a full delegation both days as this promises to be one of the most important meetings in the history of our organization. In fact, it will decide the future destiny of the A. S. of E. in Muhlenberg county, both as a business enterprise and a friend tried and true in the hour of peril and time of need to the farmers.

After material thought and due consideration of the plans recommended and adopted at the January meeting as I see it, it fails in every instance to have my approval, as it wholly ignores Equity. It makes no provisions to take care of the organization, and virtually makes a pool impossible, therefore, we shall not attempt to comply with its demand in getting out a pool contract before our meeting in April. Owing to plans having been adopted that I consider are not in accord with the principles and teachings of the A. S. of E. I shall on the first day of our meeting tender my resignation as chairman and manager. If the general membership want a wild cat and reckless business, or no business at all conducted, I must frankly say that I am not the man you are looking for as chairman, but should you decide that Equity should be the plan, and with specific terms of association, I shall be glad to be at your service and command, in any capacity that I can fill, from a humble lay member on up to the highest rank and I shall ever be found doing my duty, no matter where. Again, let me insist on every member doing his duty. Be sure that you pay your dues and maintain the organization in the county, whether we have a pool or no in 1911, as we are sure to need in the future as bad as we have in the past.

Last, but not least, I will say, let every loyal, true equity member attend the county union April 6, 7, lay aside trivial matters and contentions, get on a platform of true equity principles, coupled with brotherly love, and interest in one another's welfare, and in the good year, 1911, you will see our beloved order flourish and grow like a green bay tree planted beside the river of waters.

First, last, and all the time, I shall remain yours true for Equity, and the farming interest of our country in general.

Stuffy Cars and Pneumonia.

The board of health of one of the largest cities in the United States has pointed out in its bulletin that local death rate from pneumonia is entirely too high, and suggests that the chief reason for this state of things may be looked for in the condition of the public vehicles of transportation. People generally are much better educated as to the need for ventilation than they were a few years ago. Many thousands to day sleep with open windows and air their premises through the day who never thought of such a thing a few years ago. In addition to this, attention is now paid to the proper ventilation of schoolroom and workshops, to the enormous benefit of public health. But preaching has not produced practice in all cases, and the public must work out its own salvation by a constant insistence upon its rights in this matter.

Especially is this true in its application to streetcars, steam cars, and public conveyances generally. These are for all alike, and there is no way to prevent the juxtaposition of the sick and the well, or to say that the gripe convalescent shall not sit side by side with the person just ready to play host to the gripe germ. After a trip on any city conveyance at the crowded hour, with its packed mass of sitting and standing humanity, and, in most instances, its tightly closed ventilators, one does not wonder at gripe epidemics, but only at their temporary cessation. On the railroad cars one runs as much risk, if not more, for though they are not so crowded, the time spent on them is longer, and the air through the winter months is unspeakably vile. This is insured by the double windows, the closed ventilators, and the corridor entrance which is replacing the old open-door cars on many lines. These open-door cars were bitterly reviled because of the uncomfortable cold air that rushed in at every stop, but in that very thing lay their virtue.

The present ventilation system would do very well if it were only brought into use but of what avail is it to legislate in the name of health, and to multiply little apertures all round a car if they are to imperious conductor. The good old British rule that "you control your own window" is better than this. It leads, its true, to a considerable amount of squabbling, but although the passengers may grow heated, the compartment is cooling off, which is the important thing.

Mr. W. H. Gregory, ex-president of the Citizens' National Life Insurance Co., of Louisville, is organizing a new company, to be known as the Central National Life Insurance Co.

The services at the Presbyterian church are to be continued through the week, at least, with services afternoon and evenings, with considerable interest; Dr. Henderson is delivering some fine addresses.

Mr. Leslie Hale spent Sunday in Hopkinsville with Mr. G. E. Countler. He reports that Mr. Countler's drug store is one of the finest in the state, and that it is already a very busy spot in Christian county's bustling little city.

Save your home by having your flues repaired. Barkley Bros. do this work in best manner.

Mr. A. Barker, who has been in business here for some time, will soon sell his stock of general merchandise and move to some location yet to be selected. His location in the Jones building will be taken by Mr. Sidney Fred, who is at present in the Lam building.

For pure drugs, etc., call on Taylor & Poole, druggists.

Mr. James Tinsley contemplates the purchase of a pair of bloodhounds. This should prove a good investment, as there are many demands for these dogs, almost every week efforts are being made by parties to secure dogs to assist in the apprehension of some evil doer.

The largest line of the best baby carriages in town are on display at Roark's.

Mr. J. C. Jonson, who has been in Dade City, Fla., is now touring the alligator state and will visit other points of interest in the South, arriving home about the middle of the month. He reports that he has been having a fine time hunting and fishing and enjoying the splendid climate, and that his health is considerably improved.

Telephone that grocery want to Joe Morgan and get the best goods at lowest prices.

Cities, towns and villages all over the country are planning "clean up days," in which the men women and children are asked to help the regular force of street cleaners. Spokane, Wash., has over 50,000 volunteers, and heads the list of all American cities. They do things in the West, and in many ways are winning out over other parts of the country.

A Bissell carpet sweeper will last longer than 40 corn brooms, costing from $12 to $15; the sweepers cost $3 to $5.75. See them at Roark's, and have other advantages than the money-saving features explained.

The item of gymnasium equipment amounting to $232.10 was assumed by the Board because the Ladies' Auxiliary was unable to meet their obligation. This was not included in the Board's budget and therefore explains the deficit.

Respectfully submitted,
Y. M. C. A. Board of Directors,
J. S. T. REYNOLDS, JR. Treas.

Frank Green Goes to Drakesboro Bank.

Mr. Frank Green, who has been assistant cashier of the Farmers' State Bank, at this place, has accepted the position of cashier of the Citizens' Bank, at Drakesboro, and entered upon the discharge of his duties the first of the week. Mr. Green is a valuable man, is widely known and held in the highest confidence, and he will draw new business to this growing institution.

House and Land for Rent.

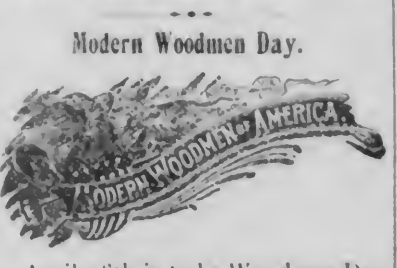

The Captain Roark property, 7 room house, stable, fine water, several acres of land, ready for cultivation located just outside of town, on two streets, will be rented reasonably. Fine location, desirable home. Apply to Orien L. Roark, Greenville, Ky.

County Judge J. J. Rice, County Attorney T. O. Jones and County Court Clerk H. L. Kirkpatrick were in Frankfort this week, appearing before the state board of supervisors, which had raised our county to 10 per cent. on real and personal property, and 15 per cent. on city lots. Mr. Cam Howard City attorney, representing the city in the same capacity.

MINERS OBSERVE IMPORTANT DAY

Miners Throughout the Country Celebrate Thirtieth Anniversary of the Inauguration of the Eight Hour Day in Mining Industry.

Union miners, practically throughout the United States, suspended work Saturday in observance of the thirtieth anniversary of the inauguration of the eight hour day in the mining industry. Programs, consisting of music, addresses and parades, were held in many sections. The eight-hour was established in the mining industry by an agreement between the operators and miners at a convention in Chicago January, 1898, and became effective April 1 of the same year. There have been improved working conditions secured from time to time under contracts made by miners and operators, and wages have been increased in accord with the increase in cost of living. This section is well organized, and all are delighted with the eight hour plan.

April 28th is to be Woodmen Day in Muhlenberg county. All M. W. of A. Camps in the county are invited to meet in Greenville at 1 o'clock p. m. April 28, 1911. A march on horseback through the principal streets of the town will be followed by speeches and songs at the court house. That night the class initiation will take place. Thirty applications have been received up to this time, and no doubt the class of fifty for which Greenville Camp is pulling, will be gotten.

There are many residences being planned by our people, and it is hoped they will be built, as there is a demand for houses here that cannot be met by the present stock of houses. House hunters are numerous, and residence property is a good investment for the owner, as well as a good thing for the town, as they would enable us to increase our rapidly growing population.

My new burr mill is in operation; call on your merchants for White Flint meal. Also ready to furnish the public with chicken feed and chopped corn.

AN OPPORTUNITY

April 11 and 12 Are The Dates.

The Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association met on last Tuesday evening and decided upon a budget for the year and set April 11 and 12 as the campaign days in which to raise the desired amount. It is estimated that outside of membership fees and rental that it will take $1,000 to wipe out the matter of gymnasium equipment, which was not included in last year's budget, and furnish the running expenses for the year. It will be remembered that four of Greenville's citizens agreed to liquidate a debt of $1,300 on the building provided the rest of the citizens would furnish the running expenses for two years. The first year has been practically met and now for a rally and pull together for the second year and the agreement will be met. Mr. W. C. Paige of Louisville, who is State Field Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will be here to aid in the campaign. He will meet with the Board on Monday evening to ascertain their plans and make suggestions for the two days campaign.

President Wm. H. Taft says: "It is about as hard to put money where it will do some good as it is to make it; you can put all you choose into the Y. M. C. A. and get the value of every dollar."

Joe Morgan solicits that grocery order, and will show his appreciation by supplying the best goods at the very lowest prices. Quick delivery and courteous treatment.

Mr. Alfred Fentress, wife and son, of South Carrollton, drove over here last Sunday afternoon in their Ames touring car. They make frequent motor trips to different points hereabouts, and get great pleasure out of their car. Mr. Fentress says that Muhlenberg roads are not the best in the world, but that much pleasure can be gotten out of a modern automobile, and he considers them a paying investment in many ways.

My new burr mill is in operation; call on your merchants for White Flint meal. Also ready to furnish the public with chicken feed and chopped corn.
